

General Tasks

Remember to keep up with reading, both silently to yourself, but also regularly out loud to someone else, in order to practise expression and flow.

Continue to practise your times tables, using a range of online games as well as getting an adult to test you orally. Remember to aim for answers within 6 seconds and without using fingers!

We will also be setting Mathletics tasks and checking them often. Have a go, but please do not stress if you find any of them too hard. Lastly, continue your daily workouts to Joe Wicks.

Science:

An endangered animal is:

- a species that is threatened with extinction;
- a species with a small habitat;
- a species that has a small population.

An orangutan is an example of an endangered animal. It is thought there are only around 7500 left in the world.

This week, we would like you to research an endangered animal and write a fact file about it.

You could include some of the following information:

- Where does it live?
- Why is it endangered?
- How many are left?

PSHE:

Thinking positively helps us feel positive. There are lots of famous positivity quotes to help people feel good:

- 'Amazing things happen when you try.'
- 'There's no place like home.'
- 'When life gives you lemons, drink lemonade.'
- 'Don't stop dreaming.'
- 'Be the reason someone smiles.'

We would like you to think of your own positivity quote and illustrate it, or you could choose one from above.

Geography:

People need the following things in a settlement:

- food, water, shelter, fuel, defence (in the very old days), materials, farmland, transport, power supply and healthcare

Think about the settlement where you live. Can you draw a picture of the area and label if any of the things listed above are there? Is there anything it doesn't have that you think it should?

French:

Using the 'First Conversations in French' sheet below, can you create a conversation between characters in a comic strip? You can draw the characters as animals or people!

Music/ ICT:

We would like you to write down as many sounds as you notice throughout your day. It may be the crunching you make when you eat your cereal, the pounding of your feet as you go down the stairs, the television, the sound of the kettle etc.

How many different sounds did you notice?

First Conversations in French

Use these phrases to construct conversations for the characters in the comic strips, then ask someone to act out the conversations with you.
